What I'll cover in the first half

- Who were the Quakers in business?
- Some reasons why Quakers were so successful in business
 - Some reasons why Quaker businesses disappeared
- The impact of the corporate law 'shocks' of the mid-nineteenth century

What Alex and I will cover in the second half

- Lessons: Corporate governance matters – Nic
- Lessons: networks and movements matter – Alex
 - Lessons: values matter – Alex
- Lessons: Business models matter – Alex

- Banking Barclays (1690), Lloyds (1765), Guernsey (1775)
- Biscuits Huntley & Palmer (1822), Carr (1831), Jacobs (1851)
- Brewing Truman & Hanbury (1781), Young & Co. (1831), Burton (1842)
- Chemicals Allen & Hanbury (1715), Crosfields (1814), Reckitt (1840), Albright & Wilson (1856)
- Chocolate Fry's (1761), Huntley & Palmers (1822), Cadbury (1824), Rowntree (1862)
- Clockmaking Tompion (1670), Quare (1671), Graham (1738), Huntsman (1740)

Who were the Quakers in business?

Glass Waterford Crystal (1783)

Engineering Ransomes (1789), Baker Perkins (1878)

Life Insurance Friends Provident (1832)

Match manufacturing Bryant & May (1843)

Metals Bristol Brass Company (1702), London Lead Mining (1705),
Rawlinson (1720), Huntsman (1740), Ransome (1789)

Newspapers News Chronicle (1855)

Paper & Packaging John Dickinson Stationary (1804), E.S. & A. Robinson
(1844)

Steelmaking Consett Iron Company (1864), Stewarts & Lloyds (1859)

Textiles Gurney (1683), Were (1686), Barclays (1690)

Who were the Quakers in business?

- “The laboratory of the industrial revolution” (Turnbull, 2014)
 - Manufacturing, canals, railways.....
 - But
- Overend & Gurney and the banking collapse of 1866
 - Bryant & May – matchmakers strike 1888

Quaker initiatives

- Marketing Fixed prices; press advertising.
- Operations Vertical integration of extraction, production and distribution
- Finance Commercial paper
- Employee relations Adult education on company time; hot meals for employees; housing for employees to be purchased over time at cost and low interest rates; workers' hostels; pensions; pensions for widows; indexed pensions; free medical and dental services for employees
- Governance Functional department organisation; multidivisional organisation; participative management; consensus building; works councils; appeals committees; profit sharing; cooperative ownership; employee selection of managers.
- Accounting Formal accounting and auditing
- R&D Research & development departments; hiring of university professors as consultants.
- Banking Provincial Banking; the cheque; bills of exchange

Key reasons...values

- Trustworthiness and integrity
- Yeoman spirit
- Higher wages
- Employee welfare
- Supplier welfare
- Honesty – ie product marketing
- Philanthropy

Key reasons...corporate governance

- Partnership structure – the Quaker owner-manager
- Meeting oversight, self-regulation
- Decision-making
- Support and advice network – a watchful eye
- Roles (Elder/Overseer)
- BYM ‘advices’
- Avoidance of debt (and expulsion)
- Open book policy (surveillance?)
- Access to the ‘Quaker network’

Key reasons...the Quaker network

- Adam Smith “The Invisible Hand?”
- Family ties
- Geographical reach (national and international)
- Shared risk-taking
- “Internal” capital market
- Education and apprenticeships (barred from universities)

The decline?

- 1844 Joint Stock Act and 1856 Limited Liability Act
- Shareholder economy
- Separation of owner/manager
- Limited liability
- Impact on corporate governance
- Dilution of values

The decline?

- Joint Stock companies
- Examples - Reckitt's in 1888, Crosfield's in 1896, Rowntree's in 1897 and Cadbury in 1899
- Why? – Selection forces, access to capital markets

The decline?

- At the same time (broadly), the power of the Quaker networks were diminishing
 - Marrying-out
 - Declining membership
 - Freely available capital in the market
 - Seduction by capitalism

“Quaker” business

Example of surviving “Quaker” business

- Scott Bader Commonwealth
- Founded in 1921, gifted to a trust with charitable objectives in 1951
- “Founded on the belief that a socially responsible undertaking cannot exist merely in its own interests. It is part of the whole national and international community and as such it has responsibilities which extend far beyond its factory walls”
- Common-ownership or ‘trusteeship’ was conceived “as an alternative to a war-based capitalist economy on the one hand and to communism on the other”.

What can we learn from this?

- Corporate governance matters
- Networks/movements matter
- Values matter
- Business Models Matter

Corporate Governance Matters

Corporate Law Matters
